

PARENTS' wardrobes were raided by youngsters from a Hucknall school and nursery - all in aid of Comic Relief.

Children aged from six weeks to five years at the Nottingham Montessori School and Nursery, based on The Connery wore big clothes for the big day. One youngster even dyed his hair red to raise money.

The youngsters were charged £1 to wear their costumes, while the school and nursery also set up a cake stall, selling cakes made by the children. A total of £70 was raised.

Deputy Manager Janet Dodd said: "The children did really well and they loved wearing their big clothes.

The parents did their bit by buying cakes and giving more money than we were asking for. It was a lovely day."
